Videotron takes Internet access where it has not gone before

Montréal, December 14, 2011 – Videotron is pleased to announce that it is bringing Wireless Internet service to customers in various parts of Québec where high-speed Internet has been unavailable until now. In collaboration with Industry Canada's Broadband Canada program, Videotron is expanding its reach in the following regions: Beauce-Lower St. Lawrence, Victoriaville-Drummondville, Montérégie-Eastern Townships, Laurentians-Mont-Laurier, Lac-Saint-Jean and the North Shore.

Thousands of homes that have been deprived of high-speed Internet will now have access to Videotron's advanced 4G mobile network and will be able to enjoy an enhanced experience powered by high-quality, reliable, state-of-the-art technology. Videotron Wireless Internet service costs $37.95 per month. The equipment – a small outdoor antenna and a modem/router – is installed by a Videotron professional technician, at a cost of $149.95. Customers will be able to count on Videotron's expertise and 24/7 technical support.
