Third time's a charm
Videotron customers get Galaxy Nexus™

Montréal, February 2, 2012 – The third handset in the Nexus line, the eagerly anticipated Galaxy Nexus by Samsung, is coming to Videotron. The latest handset from Google is powered by the Android 4.0 platform (Ice Cream Sandwich) and boasts state-of-the-art specs, packing a host of exciting features, including a 5 MP panoramic camera, into its contoured, ultra-thin frame. Videotron customers will be able to pick up Galaxy Nexus as of February 8.

Breathtaking HD images

The new Android 4.0 Ice Cream Sandwich platform is more intuitive, more fluid and more fun. The home screen, Web browser, email and other functions have been rethought to make the platform simple, beautiful and beyond smart, with subtle animations that make the phone feel alive. Galaxy Nexus' big 4.65" HD Super AMOLED display, the first of its kind, supports a dazzling user experience.

Under its clean lines, Galaxy Nexus sports a high-end 5 MP camera with continuous autofocus and zero shutter lag for excellent pics in all light conditions. It can shoot Full HD video and take superb still photos at the same time.

Faster than ever

Galaxy Nexus is equipped with a powerful 1.2 GHz dual-core processor, and supports Web browsing and downloads at speeds of up to 21 Mbps. It comes loaded with the best free Google apps, including Google Search, Google Maps, Google Earth and more.
